

Most employers think every employment law is necessary including:

Implementing changes in employment law

52% of employers go beyond what's required, 44% meet the minimum standard

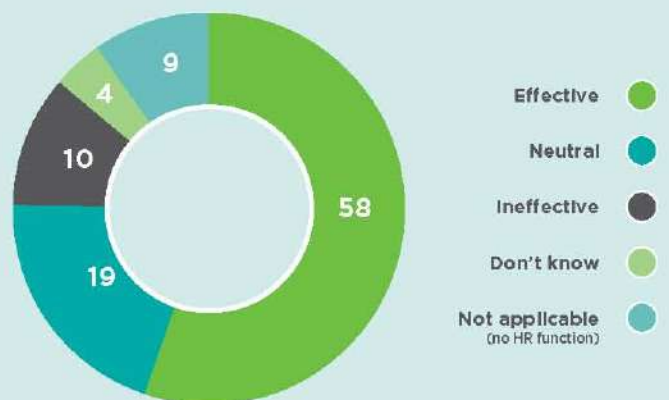

Working time

Most employers think the Working Time Regulations are necessary to protect people's health and safety

The HR function

How effective is HR in promoting compliance to senior managers?

Advice on the law

Employers' top 3 sources of advice on new legislation

The future

How should we improve legal protection for people at work?

